CHURCHILL CHALLENGES CABINET

AGED PONTIFF NOT ABLE TO LEAVE BED

Cancels All Activities; Disease Is Feared to Be Progressive

By ANDRUE BERDING
VATICAN CITY, (AP)—Pope XI, benign, 79-year-old "pope" of the conciliation, was stricken today by slight paralysis in both legs, and some high prelates said he might never walk again.

His spirit brave, he spent his first day in bed since he assumed the leadership of the Catholic church 14 years ago—completely resigned, officials said—to either becoming better or worse.

Persos close to the Holy Father disclosed that a paralytic condition first noticed in his left leg had spread to the right.

High prelates asserted the pontiff could move his limbs somewhat, but was unable to lift them. Other parts of his body, they said, were weak.

The morning stroke was stated authoritatively to have been due to a combination of arterio sclerosis and high blood pressure.

Physicians told him a slight bloodletting would reduce the blood pressure and bring some relief, but the pontiff declined to permit this, officials asserted.

Cancels Activities

Vatican officials said the pope had cancelled all activities and audiences.

Dr. Amanti Milani was called to attend the pontiff and has remained constantly at the pope's bedside, prelates said.

The pope's condition was discovered early this morning by his valet, Malvestiti, when he attempted to assist the Holy Father in arising, church officials reported.

Kin Stricken Same Way

The paralysis, it was said, is feared to be progressive. Some recalled that both the pontiff's mother and elder brother, Fermo, were stricken in the same way.

Fermo spent the last year of his life in an arm chair which, some believed, may be the case with the pope.

News of the pope's illness spread quickly throughout the vatican, causing consternation in all quarters.

OIL PROBE TO END MONDAY

Grand jury investigation of county road oil purchases will end Monday.

Presumably acting on advice contained in a telegram sent the grand jury by J. Frank Burke, that body has called John Ackerman, advertising manager of the Santa Ana Independent, to testify Monday, has recalled Supervisor John Mitchell and will quiz Supervisor N. E. West.

Burke, former Santa Ana publisher now in the radio field, was subpoenaed by the grand jury last week. Immediately after questioning, he sent that body a wire in which he urged them to "call somebody who knew something about it."

Ackerman is presumed to know something. It was he who led a fight to obtain public perusal of County Road Engineer Nat Neff's records on road oil, after involved

SLASH WATER PLAN COSTS

Estimated costs to Orange county for purchase of rights-of-way in Orange county in connection with the $13,000,000 federal flood control program here were slashed by $50,000 today.

Entire cost of properties to be purchased within the county probably will not exceed $251,800, Supervisor Willard Smith, contact man between the board of supervisors and flood control appraisers, said.

The appraisers' estimate for these lands had been $300,000. Further slashes in the complete cost of the program are expected, on the same basis.

Estimates have placed the cost of properties to be purchased in Riverside county, where the Prado dam, main unit of the project, is to be constructed, at from $1,100,000 to $1,400,000.

Largest of the purchases to be made in Orange county is that for the Brea dam, at $68,000. Cost for rights-of-way at the San Juan dam site will be $51,000, and for the Fullerton dam site $41,000.

Other estimated expenditures: Brea channel, $11,000; Carbon dam, $41,000; Loftus diversion, $54,000; Trabuco dam, $80,000; Aliso dam, $12,000; Santiago dam, $80,000; Santa Ana river channel, $20,000; Carbon conduit, $27,000; Brea pipe line, $71,000.

The completed report of the appraisal board is expected to be before the board of supervisors Tuesday.

Crowds to Throng Stores For Christmas Previews

SWANBERGER STORE WINS CONTEST

City in Holiday Attire As Musical Program Opens Big Event

A record crowd of gay holiday shoppers is expected to throng the streets of Santa Ana tonight for the formal opening of the Christmas season in this city, and particularly to inspect the colorful store windows which were judged last night.

Permanent possession of the handsome chamber of commerce trophy for winning the sweepstakes prize in the retail merchant's show window competition went today to Swanberger's Store for Men. Swanberger's now has won the sweepstakes prize three years in a row, thereby winning the cup permanently.

Second prize was awarded to the Tiernan Typewriter company, third to Rankin's Dry Goods store and fourth to Schuller's store for women. The other stores which were in the prize money were

CALL PARADE ON STRIKE

By the Associated Press

Organizers called 25,000 men, women and children to parade at San Francisco today in protest against the stalemate in the nation's maritime strike—a deadlock duplicated in various other industries troubled by walkouts.

Strife in the shipping industry kept thousands of workers idle in San Francisco and other ports of the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf coasts. In addition, 5600 workers affected by nine non-maritime strikes in the San Francisco bay area. The Pacific northwest lumber industry's business was cut an estimated 50 per cent.

At Lincoln, Neb., Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, said the maritime strike would come "to an early close."

In Washington, Secretary Ickes urged quick action toward dispatching a food-laden "truce ship" to strikebound Hawaii.

CARR TO LEAVE STATE JOB

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—W. J. Carr of Pasadena resigned his $8,000 a year job as state railroad commissioner today to become assistant city attorney of Los Angeles in charge of water and power affairs. Carr's resignation is effective Dec. 8. His term would have expired Jan. 15 next.

Governor Merriam said he will fill the vacancy by appointment very soon but is not ready to indicate who he will name.

Recalls Century of Life

Although she wasn't expected to live because of her frailty when a child, Mrs. Julia Goss will celebrate her 101st birthday anniversary this coming Monday. She believes the millennium will occur within the next five years!

Woman, 101, Waits Christ's Return

By BETTY GUILD

"I haven't any recipe for living 101 years, but I think and hope that there is a reason why I have lived that long," said Mrs. Julia Goss of Orange today. On Monday Mrs. Goss will celebrate her 101st birthday anniversary. Although she has been bed-ridden for the past four years because of a fractured hip, her mind is exceedingly alert. She not only can participate in conversation, but quotes poetry she learned (and wrote) 85 years ago, and frequently punctuates her reminiscences with humorous anecdotes.

"More than a century of living has shown me many wonderful and curious things," she continued thoughtfully. "I've come to the conclusion however, that the next five years will bring about untold wonders in this world."

Asked whether she referred to scientific developments and the growth of civilization, she said she meant that and far more.

"We seem to be living at so fast a pace," she said. "The world goes faster and faster. More and more things are being accomplished. I firmly believe that there will be some dramatic, all-important result. I sometimes have thought that perhaps I am being kept alive for that one thing—to witness the coming of Christ again."

Mrs. Goss, an ardent Prohibitionist and member of the Presbyterian church all her life, was admitted in the Calvary church three years ago, by radio, since she was unable to leave her home.

She and her devoted daughter, Miss Elsie L. Goss, have lived in Orange since 1924. They moved there from Whittier, where the husband and father of the family had died in 1908.

LEAGUE FOR AMERICAS PROPOSED

Dominican Delegation Offers Plan; Hull Gives 8 Points

BUENOS AIRES, (AP)—A project to establish an American league of nations, the most sweeping proposal yet introduced at the Inter-American Peace conference, was submitted today by the Dominican delegation.

It would bind American republics to form a united front against outside aggression and to repudiate war, intervention and acquisition of territory by force.

Recall F. D. R. Proposal

(President Roosevelt, while not suggesting organization of an American league of nations, proposed in his speech at the opening of the conference that American countries stand "shoulder to shoulder" against foreign aggression.)

Secretary Cordell Hull summoned the 21 American nations today to a cooperative effort to help state of war abroad as well as to preserve peace at home, and presented an eight-point program for a comprehensive anti-war structure.

Eight-Point Program

Hull offered the following principles as guides for the conference's labors, with the essentials that "what we do contemplate no conflict with sincere (peace) efforts the world over."

1. Adoption of broad, vigorous educational programs by each nation to organize public opinion against war, concurrently with the maintenance of national policies best calculated to preserve peace.

2. Frequent conference between representatives of the nations and intercourse between their peoples as "indispensable" in their influence for peace and well-being, understanding, friendship and trust.

Urges Ratification

3. Completion of ratification by all the American nations of the five peace agreements already in existence.

4. Pursuit of a common neutrality policy by all the American nations in time of conflict abroad on the principle that "neutrality is an achievement to be attained more readily if undertaken jointly."

5. Adoption of an American-wide policy of commercial liberality, involving lowering of excessive trade barriers and removal of injurious international trade discriminations.

Cooperation Needed

6. Recognition of the necessity of "practical international cooperation" to restore many indispensable relationships between nations "now at low ebb" through disregard of "the rights, privileges and opinions of others."

7. Revitalization and strengthening of international law founded upon the principles of justice and humanity.

8. Observance of understandings, agreements and treaties between nations as constituting the "foundation of international order."

DEADLINE FOR MAIL TODAY

Santa Anans with friends and relatives in Europe had only today in which to mail Christmas packages if they are to be delivered in time for the holiday.

Postmaster Frank Harwood pointed out that Christmas mailing dates are already past for other foreign lands except for China and Japan, which have next Tuesday as the deadline.

Postoffice Adds Extra Employees

Postmaster Frank R. Harwood today appointed 38 local persons as extra postoffice helpers for the Christmas season.

Part of the group will go to work Dec. 15, and others will commence work after that time as the work increases. Additional help will be used both as carriers and as clerks in the postoffice.

Funds of $1003 have been allotted locally for part-time help during the holiday season.

Claims It Has No Right to Suggest Edward Abdicate

By FRANK H. KING

LONDON, (AP)—Winston Churchill, the man who may be king's premier, tonight flatly challenged the authority of "any ministry" to advise the sovereign to abdicate while Edward VIII, firmly determined to wed Mrs. Wallis Simpson, met Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, man to man.

Churchill, in a statement, declared "the cabinet has no right to prejudice such a question (as that raised by the prospect of such a marriage), without having previously ascertained, at the very least, the will of parliament."

Pointing out the marriage "in no circumstances can be accomplished for nearly five months and may conceivably, for various reasons, never be accomplished at all," Churchill pleaded for "time and patience."

Mrs. Simpson's decree nisi becomes final next April 27—a few days before Edward's scheduled coronation.

Instead of calling for abdication, Churchill declared the ministers should refuse to act upon the reported request of the king for "legislation" to permit a morganatic marriage, and:

"If the king refuses to take the advice of his ministers they are, of course, free to resign."

Churchill also said the monarch "for many years has been under the greatest moral and mental strain that can fall upon men" in pleading time for the king to "consider the advice of his ministers."

He concluded:

"Shadow On Empire"

"If an abdication were to be hastily extorted the outrage so committed would cast its shadow forward across many chapters in the history of the British empire."

Should Baldwin resign, Churchill might be chosen by the king to fill his place.

While Churchill asked for "time and tolerance," Prime Minister (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

NAB ACTRESS' THREATENER

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A young sailor confessed today he wrote threatening letters to his favorite motion picture actress, Ginger Rogers, in an attempt to extort $5,000. J. H. Hanson, of the department of justice announced.

The sailor, James F. Hall, 20, was arrested at about midnight in Long Beach near a cafe where Miss Rogers was directed to bring the money, said Hanson.

"He admitted writing the letters," said Hanson, chief of the Los Angeles office of the federal bureau of investigation.

Previously Miss Rogers' mother had revealed that the actress had been threatened with death unless she paid the money.

Turn Right at Arches to Go Left

Down at The Arches there's a $185,000 puzzle. The state put it there for drivers to figure out. And if they don't do things right, there are going to be accidents.

That overhead crossing was put there to eliminate danger of accidents, however, and it's really simple to get into the swing of making turns right and not making left turns or else you'll get left.

Capt. Henry Meehan of the highway patrol explained it today. It has ramifications that could go on and on until there were a flock of very dizzy drivers trying to get from here to there—but there is only one simple rule that'll keep you out of trouble, accidents and traffic courts. Here 'tis:

Do no turn left and do not cross a road.

Signs tell you that just as you get to the overhead, but some people evidently don't believe in signs, the captain has concluded. Getting from one place to another—even getting to a place to the left of where you already are—is just a matter of right turns.

The overhead dingus—it cost $185,000 and it's all worked out to handle traffic just so—is composed of a regular X crossing, with one highway jumping up over the other one so there really isn't an intersection. The four branches of that X are connected by diagonal roads which run from the lower road to the upper one.

Got it?

Suppose you're coming from Santa Ana, and with Aunt Maria and the kids want to go to Laguna Beach. That, in the old days, would have meant a left turn—with the chance you might not get to Laguna Beach but to a hospital instead.

Now keep on Newport boulevard, and go right on over the coast highway. When you come to the diagonal road on the other side, you make a sharp right turn.

That takes you down to the coast highway, where you make another sharp right turn—and there you are.

If you want to go to Huntington Beach instead, just take the first diagonal road, without crossing over the top. Two small right turns and you're on your way.

That, explains the captain, is all there is to it. Chances are you may take a wrong road and find yourself behind the eight-ball. But in that case there's no known combination of directions you can't achieve by obeying the one rule—right turns only; don't cross the highway and don't make a left turn.

You'll get there, dizzy maybe.

HAMILTON IS PLANNING TO QUIT POST

Will Resign G. O. P. Job Dec. 17 Unless Given Vote of Confidence

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Supporters rallied around John D. M. Hamilton today in an effort to keep him in the post of Republican national chairman, despite his offer to step out.

Hamilton, who managed the Landon campaign, announced he would offer his resignation to the party's national committee in Chicago Dec. 17. His statement implied, however, that he would remain if given a vote of confidence.

Several national committeemen spoke out in favor of keeping Hamilton at the party helm, though some others reserved comment.

Vice Chairman Ralph E. Williams of Portland, Ore., predicted Hamilton would be retained. "Hamilton did the best that could be done in the recent campaign," he said. "I don't know of any feeling against him in the committee."

Among others urging his retention were the committeemen from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Illinois, Nebraska, California, Arizona, Montana, Tennessee and Maine.

POLICE REPORTS

Fred Vollmer, 2013 South Main street, is minus a palm tree, and he asked police to find out who pulled it down. Officers were sleuthing around the neighborhood. Firemen roared to 2408 Riverside drive at 9:15 o'clock last night, extinguished a small blaze in vines surrounding a chimney, and went back to their stations.

A resident of the Y. M. C. A. who has an attachment for taxicabs was questioned by police yesterday after F. H. Williams, taxicab operator, claimed he kept putting in "fake" calls for cabs.

A Christmas light on a neighboring furniture store was interfering with his radio reception, G. W. Goddicksen, 308 1/2 North Sycamore, reported. Police told store employees the light violated a city ordinance prohibiting devices which interfere with radio reception, and they promised to fix it.

Mrs. L. A. Ryherd, 812 North Olive street, told police that automobiles belonging to visitors at her house were being ransacked. Officers promised to keep an eye on the vicinity.

Charged with assault and battery on the person of Mrs. Joe Franco, Frank Aguirre, 30, Wilmington, appeared in city court here, entered a plea of guilty, and paid a $25 fine.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Hoyt Wykoff, the Garden Grove club publicity chairman, is one Townsendite who understands the value of publicity. When there is anything important doing in the Garden Grove club the writer is sure to receive a letter from this gentleman several days in advance asking that the matter be written up in this column. He has such a letter before him now asking that mention be made of a bazaar which the Garden Grove club will stage in the Woman's Civic clubhouse next Monday evening. Articles donated by members and friends will be on sale. Pie and coffee will be served for a charge of 10 cents, and home-made candy will be available for purchase. A free program of singing, dancing, and readings will be given. The public is always cordially welcomed when in attendance at this club's meetings.

Hebert F. Kenny was in Los Angeles yesterday to lead the community singing of the noonday meeting of the Billmore theater Townsend open house program. Kenny has been doing considerable of speaking before Townsend clubs and other organizations during the past week. Among the engagements filled recently was an appearance before the Lions club of San Jacinto, an address delivered to Riverside Townsend clubs, and the Women's afternoon Townsend club in Santa Ana.

Mrs. K. C. Burdick, president of Costa Mesa club No. 3, staged an interesting meeting last Tuesday evening in the Woman's clubhouse of that city. A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed by the large group present at 6:30 p. m. At 7:30 o'clock a short but interesting musical program was given, followed by a splendid address by Rev. Rex Barr of Long Beach.

Last night another Costa Mesa pot-luck dinner was held by club No. 2. This affair was held in the Lindbergh school building. Grant Henderson of Santa Ana was the speaker of the evening. A splendid time is reported to have been enjoyed.

W. H. Paul is again making Townsend speeches. For a considerable period he has been in a state of health which has prohibited such engagements. He addressed the Santa Ana club No. 11, gathering in the Franklin school last Thursday evening. Grant Henderson, president, presided over the meeting.

Harry C. Westover, state senator-elect, and Clyde A. Watson, assemblyman-elect, were the speakers before Orange club No. 1 meeting in the Orange Townsend hall last Monday evening. J. A. Green is the presiding officer of this club. All three Orange clubs use the hall as a meeting place.

Orange club No. 2 held its regular meeting Thursday night in the Orange Townsend hall with E. E. Gould presiding over the gathering. Judge L. F. Coburn was the speaker of the evening and brought a very instructive and interesting message. Judge Coburn was educated as a civil engineer before becoming an attorney at law. He became a convert to the Townsend plan only after cold figures convinced him the plan was practical and capable of being financed by the advocated 2 per cent transaction tax method.

Last Sunday afternoon a county Townsend mass meeting was held in Anaheim in the Townsend club building at 210 South Clementine street. The meeting was sponsored by the Anaheim club. Mrs. Ida S. Freeman of Anaheim presided over the afternoon meeting. The audience included a number from Santa Ana clubs. Hebert F. Kenny led the audience in a period of enthusiastic community singing. Later he contributed two fine solos to the program. Mrs. Kenny accompanied him. J. H. Walsh of Costa Mesa introduced the main speaker of the day, the well liked 16-year-old Frances Hansen of Alhambra. She addressed the group on the Townsend plan from the youth standpoint. She stressed the need of the Townsend plan being enacted into law and made a part of the functioning of economies within the nation. Such she said would revive business and make possible the employment of the now idle youth of the nation. Such employment she pointed out would be helpful in stemming the tide of crimes committed by those of youthful ages. She quoted Dr. J. W. Studebaker, United States commissioner of education, to the effect that "there are more than 3,500,000 young men in the nation between the ages of 16 and 24 years of age who are today numbered among the unemployed of the nation." It was a concluding engagement of a series of addresses which the young speaker made in the 9th district during the Thanksgiving vacation period. She returned home that evening.

In almost every day's press dispatches comes the news of some person despondent because of unemployment, and being out of funds, committing suicide. Too proud to beg or become the ward of charity, they make their exit out of this life rather than suffer

STRIKE LEADER SENT TO JAIL

William Velarde, Mexican organizer during last summer's strike, at last is going to jail for his connection with the labor uprising here.

His appeal from the 90-day sentence imposed by justice of the Peace Halsey Spence of Fullerton last July on vagrancy charges was dismissed by Superior Judge James L. Allen, who ruled that it had not been made within the required time limits of 90 days.

Velarde and Jose Espinosa, also an organizer, were arrested on July 14 in Fullerton, and entered a not guilty plea in justice court. They were convicted by a jury. Immediate notice of appeal was filed, but the actual motion was not on file in superior court until last week.

Their bail bonds will be ordered exonerated today by Justice Spence, and the jail order made immediately.

Velarde is secretary-treasurer of the Mexican Unions federation in California, and Espinosa holds an official position with the federation.

Father of Local Man Is Called

Irving S. Pausell, father of Irving Pausell of Santa Ana, died Tuesday at the home of another son, Lloyd Pausell, in Bellflower. He was formerly in the real estate business here, and was 64 years of age. His death was the result of a heart attack.

Funeral services were scheduled to be held today at 2 p. m. in Bellflower.

The unwelcome humiliation today so common. Before the writer lies the account of such an incident in Los Angeles. He had spent his last 20 cents for breakfast the morning before. He left a penciled note which said, "I am penniless and naturally cannot exist here. There is no one I can turn to." In a land where food was destroyed because of overabundance people die by their own hands to still the pangs of hunger and self reproach for their own failure.

Those who think they know, say that the depression from which the nation is emerging was purposely engineered by certain financial groups. If there is a hereafter in which men have to account for the influences which they set in motion, there will be a long list of blood-red transgressions awaiting those responsible for engineering such financial periods of disaster. Perhaps the man's soul whose body lay on the lawn of a public library with an emptied revolver clutched in a cold hand had made a serious mistake due to a mind dulled by suffering.

But so did the man or group of them who for a few filthy pieces of silver betrayed the citizenry of the nation by bringing on the depression. No wonder the Townsendites want the Townsend plan to solve the unemployment and despair of millions of Americans.

Two talks are on the December calendar at Bowers museum, Glen Lukens of Fullerton, noted for his pottery, being scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, and Mary Easton, weaving expert, and instructor at Scripps college, on Dec. 20. Both talks are to be at 2:30 o'clock.

Also in connection with the talks will be exhibits. Lukens will show some of his ceramics and Miss Easton will display spinning wheels and loom. In connection with the latter exhibit will be a display of old coverlets from Santa Ana homes.

Charline Chambers, who made 35 net words per minute, and Icy May Sieweke who typed 25 words per minute, were the ones in the advanced typing class receiving small certificates, according to Mrs. Wright, instructor. The students in the beginners' class who have made their goals are Dorothy Raitt, with 19 words; Virginia Campbell, making 21 words; Josephine Stanley, who also made 19 words; Dorothy Frazier, with 16 words, and Lois Green, who succeeded with 15 net words per minute.

Besides giving out small certificates, Mrs. Wright will present large certificates and bronze, silver and gold pins, with the necessary requirements, at the end of semester.

A Christmas party was planned and discussed for Dec. 17 at the Y. W. C. A. by the ninth grade Girl Reserves, at a very interesting and amusing meeting held at Jean Conliffe's home, 1714 North Flower, Dec. 2. It was also decided to have a "Red Dance" in January, the date of which has not been set. The dance will be strictly sport, and no stags will be admitted. Preceding the business meeting the girls were regaled by a weenie and marshmallow roast.

The girls in P. E. have now taken over the tennis courts from the boys' training class, Miss Anderson announced today. One squad will play each day for a championship of all the girls.

New members of the Willard honor roll for the quarter ending Nov. 14 were announced today by Mrs. Maurine Scott, advisor. Honor students from the ninth grade are Virginia Campbell, Mary Catherine Friend, Alice Jean Irvin, Eva Faye Smeck, Josephine Stanley and Clare West. Those from the seventh grade include Marilyn Bear, Jim Butler, Patricia Collins, Eugene Dixon, Vivian Haskell, Adele Lewis, Betty Platt, Barbara Senn and Eugene Smith.

The Willard D's have a heavy schedule against them this season. The B's, C's and D's practice once a week in the high school gym and the rest of the week they practice on their own home ground or play some school. Many of the boys did not see action against Huntington Beach because of lack of transportation. The D's had the largest squad representing Willard.

Wednesday the B's and C's lost their game against Huntington Beach, and the D's won their game against the same opponents. The

SKATE WEDDING PLAN FLOPS

A Santa Ana roller skating rink almost had a wedding on skates. But it didn't materialize, and the management, as well as several local merchants, was wondering about it today.

Several drug store proprietors said they had donated funds to a promoter to pay for advertising at the gala event. A lawyer says he filled out a contract for the promoter.

The telephone company installed a telephone at the rink to take care of calls, and a sign painter painted some signs.

But the future of the wedding-on-skates business looked bad, and the management was worried about the whole thing.

Yesterday the Tiernan Typewriter company reported that Reese L. Hammond, former employee of a roofing company here, had rented a typewriter and had not returned it. Police found the typewriter at a restaurant, where employees said someone had left it in exchange for a meal ticket.

AWAIT BUNCO MEN HERE

A most elegant scheme for "making money" had fizzled in El Centro today, and the sheriff's office here was looking for possible customers of a pair of very clever bunco men who might show up in Orange county.

Herman Zabel, chief of the identification bureau, asked today for information on any Orange county residents who had heard of the two men captured in Imperial valley.

Giving their names as H. B. Thorne, 46, and H. B. Burton White, 31, the two were nabbed in an El Centro room with $1899 in their possession.

Finding a possible victim, the two men would take him to their hotel room, Sheriff R. W. Ware of Imperial county, said. The system was to take a $20 bill, treat it with "chemicals," and roll it between two blank sheets of paper, transferring an impression to the paper. Then a dollar bill would be "bleached" and rolled between the other two sheets, creating a very handy $20 bill.

Sheriff Ware said he thought it was sleight-of-hand. The two men had been reported in San Diego, Stockton, and were thought to have come through Orange county. Zabel wants to know if there were any victims here.

Patrol and Death Squadron Confused

The California highway patrol squad here has a new name. Now it's "The Squadron of Death," according to somebody or other in Frank Harwood's post-office.

In the highway patrol postoffice box this morning Desk Sergeant Don Squires found an envelope which wasn't for one of his officers. It read:

"Sr. Enrique Laurent, Squadron of Death, Santa Ana, California, U. S. A."

Laurent, Spanish program director of KVOE, has been with the squadron (really the motorcycle squad of the Mexico City police here on a goodwill tour) for several days, taking the place of an injured rider.

Squires decided to forward the envelope.

Deny Failure to Support Children

Two Orange county men charged in superior court with non-support of their minor children entered pleas of not guilty yesterday.

Trial of G. A. Fitcher, Orange, was set for Jan. 7, before Superior Judge G. K. Seovel. That of Earl J. Pitsell, Santa Ana, was set for Feb. 8, when he told the court he was ill and needed additional time for treatment before attempting to make arrangements for care of his family.

Both were released on their own recognizance pending trial.

Lights Go Out and Trial Goes Off

Where was Noah when the lights went out? Ans. In the dark.

And where was the justice court when the lights went out? Ans. In a quandary.

Here they'd spent almost a whole day going "round and round on a case, and then the lights had to go off.

So Manuel Serna, free on $5000 bond furnished by a group of Mexican merchants, will wait until Dec. 17 to hear decision on a preliminary hearing charging him with a statutory offense against a 16-year-old girl. When the lights went off in the hall of records, the case just had to be continued.

The whole day was spent Thursday with testimony from half a dozen witnesses. Serna himself threw things into an uproar by repudiating an alleged confession and beginning an attempt to establish an alibi.

Burke Station Seeks Full Time

In what was believed here to be a preliminary to a request for full-time operation, J. Frank Burke, former Santa Ana publisher, today had petitioned the communications commission at Washington, D. C., for a change in the frequency of his radio station, KPVD, Los Angeles.

Burke asked to switch from 1000 kilocycles to 990 kilocycles. Such a change, it was indicated, would eliminate interference from the station were allowed night broadcasting time. At present the station closes at sundown.

HOUSING ACT COMPLIANCE REQUIRED

Buildings now under construction in the Orange county building boom will be checked for compliance with the state housing act by L. T. Mott, supervisor of housing for California, who arrived in Santa Ana yesterday.

Mott also will check housing conditions and confer with H. O. Rasmussen, newly-appointed building inspector here, and with other officials in the county.

The housing law in which he is interested governs the erection and maintenance of hotels and apartment houses in all parts of the state and dwellings in incorporated cities. It sets minimum standards for construction, fire safety, ventilation, and lay-out of habitations.

"We find that in this heavy construction program builders are inclined at times to overlook important phases of the state housing law that are necessary to correct later," Mott said.

"Hence, we desire to call the attention of the various branches of the local building industry to the provisions of this important statute and we shall expect their cooperation in seeing that its requirements are fully complied with."

Copies of the law will be furnished upon request, Mott said.

DONS ANNEX THIRD SOUTHLAND GRID TITLE

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE SANTA ANA PRESS BOX

Eleven thousand dollars' revenue is considered mere chicken-feed to a large university, but to Santa Ana's Dons, who grossed approximately that amount for the 1936 season, it represents an amazing sum for an institution of 750 students.

Municipal bowl turnstiles clicked just TWICE as merrily as during any other season for A. J. (Bill) Cook's junior collegians.

Auditor Harry Jackson said no official checkup was available today, but estimated the Southern California J. C. association play-off, won by our Dons 9-0 here last night, grossed $1600. That, added to a previous sum of $9,272.45, elevates Santa Ana's gross to the $11,000 figure.

Perhaps you wondered what came out of that mid-field huddle among coaches and officials just before game-time.

The 10-minute session was devoted to discussion of the alleged ineligibility of Norman Niemants, Los Angeles' stellar blocking halfback. Coach Bill Cook of the Dons started the fireworks.

Strolling up to the Los Angeles coaches, Bill said, "We have information Niemants is ineligible, and would like to hear what the player has to say for himself." Niemants was called, and denied he was a "ringer" from the East and had ever registered at U. S. C.

"Do you have anything in writing that this boy is ineligible?" one of the Los Angeles' coaches asked.

"No," said Cook.

"Well, we are going to run the risk of playing him. You have not produced sufficient evidence the boy is ineligible."

Eight members of Santa Ana's starting combination ended their careers in a blaze of glory. They were Co-Capt. Al Titenor and Fred Erdhaus, ends; Ray Devine, tackle; Howard Rash and Carl Benson, guards; Bob Holmes, center; John Lehnhardt, fullback; and Fred Lentz, halfback. Other university timber which the Dons sent into action for the last time included Harry Staley, Leslie Minder, Hal Mossman, and Dick Connell, linemen; and Bill Greschner (all-conference), Alvin Lamb, and Ray Sides, backs.

Back in 1926 Pasadena presented a handsome trophy to the junior college association with the understanding it would become permanent possession for the eleven winning the title three times. Pasadena annexed the crown in '26, and again in '28 and '32 to bring that trophy to the Bulldogs for its final resting place. Santa Ana won its THIRD title just four years too late.

Chairman W. H. Spurgeon, jr., of the chamber of commerce committee announced today the champion Dons will be feted at a public banquet in Legion hall Dec. 15, at which time Coach Leo Calland of San Diego State will speak on a program now being completed by Spurgeon's committee of chamber and service club officials. Santa Ana High school's banquet, at which Coach G. A. (Tex) Oliver of Arizona university was to talk next Monday night, has been postponed a week. Oliver will be unable to come on the latter date.

Suggest A. A. U. Retain Metric Plan in Track

By ALAN GOULD

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—After two days devoted to side-tracking Olympic controversies, shadow-boxing for political control, and wrestling with its 1937 sports program, delegates to the forty-eighth convention of the Amateur Athletic union faced a final, sharp warning today against a "divided house" from President Avery Brundage of Chicago.

The American Olympic chieftain in a report marking his farewell to A. A. U. arms as he prepared to wield the convention gavel for the seventh and last time, declared the organization "will continue to grow and prosper if it confines itself to amateur sport alone."

He added: "Once it is made the tool of some individual group or to A. A. U. arms as he prepared to wield the convention gavel for the seventh and last time, declared the organization "will continue to grow and prosper if it confines itself to amateur sport alone."

The statement to the first general session, reviving echoes of the Olympic fight which nearly disrupted the A. A. U. a year ago, followed comments on a program to whip the main business program into shape for final action.

Chief developments included: 1. Tightening of opposing lines in the contest between Jeremiah T. Mahoney and Major Patrick J. Walsh, two New York lawyers for the presidency, with indications and lost the same number this year and occupied third place with the Rocky Mountain boys who won two and lost two. The south was next with 12 and 18 (400) and the far west with 3 and 8 (273).

Pitt, just another ball team in its own home town, had the most impressive intersectional record, beating Ohio State 6-0, Notre Dame 26-0 and Nebraska 19-6. Minnesota had a good start with a 14-7 win over Washington and a 47-19 victory over Texas but had to devote most of its time to attending to its neighbors.

Fordham, beating Southern Methodist, St. Mary's and Purdue and tying Georgia, took a wider swing than anybody else. Navy, looking to the south, beat William and Mary, Davidson and Virginia before kicking Notre Dame's Irish, 3-0.

The southeast and southwest pumped up the nearest inter-conference squabble of the year, playing six inter-league games and each winning two, losing two and tying two. Louisiana State was mainly responsible for the southeastern stand, beating Arkansas 19-7, Rice 20-7 and tying Texas 6-6.

In other inter-league battles the Big Ten grabbed a one-up advantage on the southwest on Minnesota's rout of Texas but went Basketball of university caliber will be waged over the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. gymnasium floor at 8 o'clock tonight in a game open to the public without charge.

The Woolen Mills' cagers, comprised of ex-prep and college stars, will attempt to win their third game in four starts against formidable opposition. Tonight they engage the Olympic Athletic clubmen from Los Angeles, a quintet headed by Art Moller of the '35 Universals and all-America Ken Fagans from Oregon State.

Manager Quentin Matzen's Washington avenue gang eliminated the touted Redondo Eagles 42-37, and Modak's Service of San Pedro, 42-36, but lost an over-time game to the U. S. S. Vestal, 41-38, after a 36-36 deadlock.

Matzen said he would start Joe McChesney at guard in the absence of Leonard Lockhart, Eastern J. C. all-conference player. Doug Wheeler and Bill Kolkhorst will be at forward, Fred (Feet) Wiener at center, McChesney and Vernon Valentine at guard.

In addition to the well-known Moller and Fagans, the invaders will have Bob Finch, all-Los Angeles city prep center from Manual Arts; Fred Gonzales, ex-Jefferson High school guard; and Lloyd Burtos, former Los Angeles Jaysee guard.

The Matzen quintet performs at Riverside Junior college next Wednesday night, and is host to the Breakers' Varsity Service here the following Friday. Whittier college and the San Pedro Miller's quintet also are on the Santa Ana schedule.

CAPISTRANO'S FIVES WIN

San Juan Capistrano High school's Orange league cagers all made a triple killing in exhibition basketball with Hemet at Capistrano last night.

Coach Gil Strother's varsity cagers won, 29 to 10, with Bob Cook leading the attack with 18 points. Stoddard with 17 and Jack Morse, 10, paced the Class Bees to a sparkling 36-10 walk-away. Hemet won the Class C game, 10 to 3.

The Cougar varsity will play Huntington Beach's champion Oilers on the Capistrano floor next Tuesday at 3 p. m. Strother has entered his preps in the LaVerne college invitational Dec. 10-11-12. The Cougar Bees will play in the Garden Grove tournament on the second dates. They face Garden Grove's host quintet in the first Thursday.

The point after touchdown, long a subject for acrid debate, suffers its annual bombardment. Hunk Anderson of North Carolina State and Ed Walker of Mississippi, each of which dropped one 7-6 decision during the campaign, would abolish it entirely. Jack Hagerty of Georgetown doesn't like the idea of kicking the extra point because that calls for a specialist, entirely distinct from the team play which the game otherwise stresses. He would count first downs as a substitute for the point after touchdown or put the ball on the 5-yard line with two tries to take it over.

Edward (Slip) Madigan of St. Mary's Gaels would eliminate the 5-yard penalty for asking time out more than three times in one half. He believes this rule handicaps teams which have few reserves. Along the same line, Jimmy Phelan of Washington wants unlimited substitutions. The rule now states that a player withdrawn may not re-enter the game in the same period.

GRID COACHES WANT RULE CHANGES

By HERBERT BARKER

NEW YORK. (AP)—The national football rules committee notoriously is slow to make any basic changes in the playing code but the coaches, individually, have suggested a dozen or more revisions that may come up for discussion, if not action, at the annual rules committee sessions.

Most of the debate, naturally, will revolve about those involving forward pass interference and the kicking of a free ball.

Responding to an Associated Press poll, coaches also suggested changes in many other rules including those affecting the use of the shift, the point after touchdown, substitutions and the lateral pass.

Jimmy Crowley of Fordham and Duquesne officials are concerned over the 15-yard penalty when the offensive team, after shifting, fails to pause a full second before putting the ball in play. Fordham lost more than 100 yards in the St. Mary's game for infractions of this rule and Duquesne lost as much or more in the Detroit game.

Crowley suggests a 5-yard penalty would be enough and A. B. Maginnes of Lehigh, a well-known eastern official, agrees.

Clarence Overend, graduate manager of athletics at Carnegie Tech, complains on the other hand that the Tartans suffered frequently because officials failed to call the penalty. He wants strict enforcement of the "one-second" rule.

Cubs Outgained In First Downs, 19-1

By PAUL WRIGHT

Move over, Pasadena! Make room for Santa Ana, the only other junior college ever to enter the Southern California association's football hall of fame THREE times! At the expense of the same rival they eliminated in a 7-6 thriller in Los Angeles in 1933, Andrew Jackson (Bill) Cook's Dons rolled to an impressive 9-0 victory over Glen Ackerman's Los Angeles' Cubs before 7000 fans who paid approximately $1600 at the Municipal bowl last night.

It was the Eastern conference finalist against the invading Western division champions in a thrilling drama whose 9-0 score told a misleading story of NINETEEN first downs for the Dons to ONE for the Cubs. Ordinarily, the score would have run into the 20's. The gun twice ended Santa Ana rallies with the ball inside Los Angeles' 1-yard line at the end of the second and fourth quarters! An intercepted pass and a fumble on a misdirected pass from center destroyed two other marches inside the 15-yard line.

The Southern California champions: 1926—Pasadena; 1927—San Bernardino; 1928—Pasadena; 1929—Santa Ana; 1930—Compton; 1931—Compton; 1932—Pasadena; 1933—Santa Ana; 1934—Riverside; 1935—Riverside; 1936—Santa Ana.

Ineligibility of Jerry DeHoag, triple threat halfback, and his understudy, Regalado, because of their alleged connection with a book-stealing scandal on the campus.

PLAY LAST GAME

The Dons will not schedule a post-season game with San Mateo, Northern California champions, for the mythical state title, or any charity game. Coach Bill Cook indicated today, "It looks as if we are through. The boys have had a fine year, and another game would run almost into the Christmas holidays."

pus was a sad blow to Los Angeles' challengers, who partially made up with alert defense and Tackle Bill Maser's spectacular punting what they lacked on offense.

They had neither a running attack nor an aerial assault that could compare with other Santa Ana rivals such as Riverside Chaffey and Pomona.

The pay-off came early in the second quarter when Mac Beall, who played a whale of a game at inside half and fullback, got off a beautiful punt which Gibson, quarterback, grounded on Los Angeles' 4½ line. The brilliant Maser, who had been averaging better than 40 yards, went back of his goal to punt, but the entire Don forwards closed in on him with a rush, and Tackle Ray Devine caught the big fellow back of his own goal for a safety.

Beall, who should be a genuine threat for the Dons next fall, also placed the champions in position for their only touchdown when, late in the fourth quarter, he brought down a pass from all-conference Johnny Lehnhardt on the Los Angeles 30, and rammed to the 5-yard line. Long-legged Blas Mercutio was sent into the fray and on the first play stormed left end behind beautiful interference.

IRISH RATED OVER TROY

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Notre Dame and the University of Southern California close their 1936 football campaigns today when they meet in their eleventh annual intersectional battle.

Coach Elmer Layden's famed fighting Irish from South Bend, fresh from a spectacular victory over Northwestern, were favored to inflict another defeat in the Trojans' so-so season.

Game time was 2 p. m. "I'm afraid my boys are full of food and not football," Layden said. "We may not win, but we will not lose prestige," responded Howard Jones, Troy's mentor.

In the Irish-Trojan series, started in 1926 under the regime of the late coach Rockne, Notre Dame has won six times, U. S. C. four. Notre Dame sought its third straight victory today, something neither team has been able to accomplish.

Bill Greschner Plays

Quarterback Bill Greschner's appearance in the lineup in the second quarter was a stunning surprise to local fans who had read press notices to the effect the all-conference "jackrabbit" was definitely out of action with a groin injury. Greschner received special treatment yesterday, and was advised he had only a pinched blood vessel and could play until he felt pain. Greschner aggravated the injury on the first play—a

Sticky-fingered Erwin Youel caught a 30-yard pass from Lehnhardt, and was brought down on the 2-yard line in the waning seconds of play. The gun sounded before the Dons could get off another play. They experienced a similar set-back at the end of the second quarter with the ball on the one-foot line.

Lehnhardt, Beall, Youel, Titenor, Erdhaus, Benson, Devine, Rash, Roquet, Mueller, Lentz, Mercutio, Holmes and all of the first-stringers played fine ball. Holmes' passing was erratic, but his defensive work was superb. Lehnhardt and Beall stood out in the back-field.

Barker Picks Irish, Gaels In '36 Finale

By HERBERT BARKER

NEW YORK. (AP)—Returning for a little "post-graduate" selection this corner offers the following comment on today's slender football slate:

Southern California-Notre Dame: Something happened to Notre Dame after the Navy defeat. Whatever it was, Elmer Layden will accept more of same with thanks. Southern California started out like the Trojans of old, but ran out of luck in recent weeks. Close, but Notre Dame gets the nod.

St. Mary's-Texas: It's a long trip for Pop Warner's Owls, and St. Mary's is due to win at least one important ball game in order to justify some of the extravagant pre-season ballyhoo. St. Mary's-Tennessee-Mississippi-Tennessee.

Arkansas-Texas: Arkansas to win the Southwest title.

Rice-Southern Methodist: Spinning the coins, Southern Methodist.

Texas A. and M.—Manhattan: One faint ballot for inconsistent Texas A. and M.

Florida-Mississippi State: Mississippi State.

Maryland-Western Maryland: Not much to choose. Maryland.

And just to round off the season, Texas Christian to beat Santa Clara on Dec. 12.

NATIONAL GRID SPOTLIGHT STOLEN BY EASTERNERS

NEW YORK. (AP)—The eastern intercollegiate football show, starring Jock Sutherland's Pitt Panthers, Navy's novelty troupe and Jimmy Crowley's late lamented Fordham Rams, this year took the intersectional spotlight away from the Midwest and Southwest.

Although shaded, 11 games to 9, by major midwestern teams, the east won 25 and lost 17 for an average of .585 while the midwesterners won 17 and lost 14 for .545.

The southwest, leader last year with 11 won and 5 lost, won nine

Salica's Opponent Saved By Bell

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—The final bell saved Joe Mendiola of Manila from a knockout by Lou Salica, former bantamweight champion, in their 10-round bout at Legion stadium last night.

As the referee's count reached seven over Mendiola, the time-keeper ended the fight, but the Filipino was not revived until he was taken to his dressing room.

Dropped twice in the fifth round for no-counts, Salica, from Brooklyn, had the edge most of the way. He weighed 117½, Mendiola 116½.

HORTON SMITH LEADS GOLF Rival Tries Overnight Putt

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Bill Mehlnhorn's overnight putt took conversational honors today amid second round firing in the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament.

Horton Smith cracked par 71 by three strokes yesterday to lead the unwieldy field and Jack Forrester and Abe Espinosa canned aces but the meet's No. 1 yarn was about Wild Bill's postponed putt.

Darkness came before the 223 starters could finish the first 18 holes.

On the 18th green was "Wild Bill" on in two and 12 feet from the flag. He was one over par through the 17th and he had a good chance to wind up with a 70, one under par.

Mehlnhorn gauged the extent of the gathering gloom and decided he wouldn't hit that 12-foot putt that day.

He marked the spot where his ball lay and the spot where the hole was sunk and stalked into the locker room, announcing, if they moved the cups before he putted (the holes are bored in different places each day) he was just going to hit the ball

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

MY OZARKS correspondent, Ancient Mariner Bob Guild, who lately has been hiding behind a long, white beard as dear old Uncle Bob the Santa Claus man on the radio, writes a letter.

Usually, when Uncle Bob writes, he tells lusty tales of the sea, of grappling with mid-sized lobsters, or carnivorous crayfish. This time, however, he enters a field of Drammier. With a capital "D." Here's Uncle Bob's creation, which should be popular with Editor Verne Beck, of Sermons for Children fame:

Dear Admiral Gaines: I haven't written you a letter for a long time. However, I haven't forgotten about you. Last night I was forcibly reminded of you, and I thought I'd forward this bit of humor, which seemed right up your anchorage.

I'm in a play, you know. This is a dramatic story told to me by Mrs. Marion Bruner, Santa Ana teacher.

Seems some time ago a group of amateur players once befriended Eugene O'Neill. O'Neill, in a spirit of camaraderie, told them that if they ever needed anything from him he'd be glad to oblige. Came the day these players were about to do a new show, and they wanted one that would stand out. So they wrote O'Neill, and asked him to concoct a new one-act for them.

Time passed. Nothing happened. Eventually the players in desperation decided they'd have to write their own. They did, and it out-Neilled O'Neill! Here's how it finally turned out.

The scene is an old farmhouse in the Ozarks. Sitting in the center of the room, peacefully knitting, is an old woman, spectacles, gray hair and all. After a few moments of silence, the door slowly opens.

A young man stands silently there.

"Hello, maw," he said.

"Hello there, son," she replied, in a slow, drawling voice.

"Have you seen paw, maw?" he asked.

"No, I ain't, son," she replied.

"Have you seen paw?"

"Yes, I have, maw."

"Whereat was he, son?"

"He was in the barn, maw."

"What was he ahagin' from, son?" she asked.

"He was ahagin' from a rope, maw."

There was a few moments silence. Then:

"Did you cut him down, son?"

"No, maw," he said, "I didn't. He warn't dead yet."

Me'n Fire Chief Frank Crocker at Newport have been worrying.

But we solved our worries. He'll be glad to hear it.

The mental unrest concerned the 100-year-old gate used in Governor Merriam's dedication of the new highway separation unit at Newport last week. We were wondering what became of the gate after the impressive ceremony.

And so I dispatched an investigator, who found the gate had been returned to the spot it had occupied for the past century.

At last reports, it was becoming settled in its old position again, but not without a few groans after having had a view of the outside world.

But the gate's return raised an interesting question. What was done to keep the cows and other quadrupeds out—or in—whichever a gate does, while the artistic antique was being used by the governor as a background for his dedicatory address?

My operative went back again, and investigated that phase of the matter, too. Workers, he reports, merely strung up a barbed-wire fence to fill the vacancy left by the gate. So the cows, and other aforementioned quadrupeds didn't have a good time wandering where they weren't supposed to wander, after all.

Which, any way you look at it, is too bad!

You'd think Dan Mulhaddon'd get tired of playing Santa Claus!

He's been named another one—this time as the official gift-giver at the annual Christmas party of the Coast association, slated for Dec. 15 in the Woman's clubhouse at Costa Mesa.

Dan did very well in the role last year, and so he was elected again for the coming season.

The only thing that's worrying me is how'll he smoke his permanent cigar while wearing his beard?

The third plan called for lighting of the Plaza circle on trees placed there as in former years, with the addition of a large lighted tree in each of the four grass plots in the corners of the outside square.

Action on the proposals will be taken later. Councilman E. J. Bando was appointed to select the plan to see which plan is most acceptable.

FOUNTAIN AT FULLERTON FINISHED

FULLERTON.—Marking completion of the beautiful $20,000 electric water fountain alongside the state highway in Hillcrest park here, the evening of Dec. 18 has been set for formal dedication of the project, it has been announced.

The fountain, with its 66 streams of water and colorful lighting system, will first be put into play at 7:30 o'clock on that evening, city officials have decided.

Schools, churches, service clubs and the chamber of commerce, together with Fullerton's councilmen, will take part in the dedication program. Also scheduled for introduction honors is Dan Mulhaddon, chief of the county's Works Progress administration.

The committee in charge of the event includes President Harry F. Smith of the chamber, Mayor Harry Maxwell and Secretary Harry May of the booster body. Working with them in arranging details will be representatives of various local groups.

Massive in size to match its beauty, the fountain occupies an impressive tree-studded glen in Hillcrest park fronting Spadra road. Its electrical equipment now is being installed by city employees under direction of Electrician Merrill Royer and City Engineer Herman Hiltcher.

The equipment will provide 62 color and light changes for the fountain, and will force a stream of water from a main nozzle 25 feet into the air. Sixty-five smaller jets, each shooting streams of water from six to eight feet high, will play around the main ribbon of water. Its operation will be a circulating pump which will enable water from Salton sea district, hauled to Fullerton, provides a facing for the fountain and its extensive walls reaching in semi-circular design from two sides.

The judge asked a vacation of two weeks from Dec. 20 to the first Monday in January, stating that the position of city judge will be filled either by Judge A. W. Swayze or Judge Hayden.

CHRISTMAS LETTER ASKS FOOTBALL FOR SISTER

Merry Christmas! Only 20 days to go now, kids, and I hope you're being so good that your mother and father scarcely recognize you!

Today Uncle Bob is going to award the $1 savings account at the First National bank to Dale Kenneth Patterson of 421 West Santa Clara street in Santa Ana, for his swell letter on "Why I Like Christmas."

Uncle Bob in particular liked the Dale thought of his baby sister, Dianne, and the way he put in her Christmas order before his own. And I'm sure Dianne would like to get a football and fire engine for Christmas!

Here's what Dale said:

Football for Sister

"Dear Santa Claus: My name is Dale Kenneth Patterson and I live at 421 West Santa Clara street, in Santa Ana, and I will be 5 next March. I like this Christmas because it is the first Christmas I have had my baby sister Dianne, who the stork brought, since last Christmas. Dianne and I have the same birthday, March 3, but I am 4 years older than she is and I am her big brother and you bet I take care of her good."

"Santa Claus, won't you please bring sister Dianne a big doll that talks, a football and Fire Engine. Bring my Daddy a new hat and Mother a turkey. I want to get an automobile so I can drive to school next year, and if you have any extra ones, I want a new baby brother who will play with Dianne when I am at school."

"You can come down our chimney for it is a big wide one, and I promise not to peek, but will get up early to see my presents."

Write a Letter!

So there's today's winner in Uncle Bob's Christmas letter contest. Honorable mention went today to Keller Myers of Garden Grove, who is 9 years old.

This afternoon at 15 minutes to 6 Uncle Bob will be back on the air over KVOE, with another adventure of Dot and Dan in Santaland to read to you, and another story to tell you. Be sure to have your Journals handy and be tuned in to KVOE at 15 minutes to 6.

Remember the rules for this letter contest, and write Uncle Bob one today, telling him why you like Christmas. You must be less than 12 years old, and your letter must be less than 200 words long.

There are three boxes downtown where you can leave your letters—at the First National bank, at The Journal, and at the office of KVOE, in the Moore building, 315 North Broadway. Or you can mail them to me, either at KVOE or The Journal.

The new members of the Athletic association are Beth Francis, Rebecca Archer, Dorothy Winn, Virginia Pafford, Beth Kellams, Emily Bouchard, Faye Kodama, Mary Anderson, Margaret Coleman, Vera Scott, Elizabeth Campbell, Anna Marie Groly, Anita Segura and Tomoko Kodama. Miss Stella Youcin is the club advisor. Approximately 70 attended the banquet.

CLUB MAY BACK SCOUT TROOP

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Revival of Newport Harbor's own company of Sea Scouts under sponsorship of the Service club was proposed by Mayor Harry Williamson at the club's luncheon meeting Wednesday.

The club, in accord with its constitution, voted to act upon the proposal at its next meeting. Thirty-two members were in attendance, accompanied by two guests. Skinny Skirvin's long-distance speech was read by Scotty Watkins, president.

Newport Harbor has had no Sea Scout company ashore, Williamson reminded the Service club membership, since most of the members of the former company shipped aboard the training ship "Stranger III" to be skippered by Capt. Fred E. Lewis on scientific cruises over most of the seven seas. The Stranger at present is in port for overhaul, before sailing again to far places.

'ANTHONY ADVERSE' COMES TO SCREEN OF BROADWAY SUNDAY

PICTURE BEING BOOKED FOR FOUR DAYS

Fredric March, Olivia De Havilland Play Leading Roles

Hervey Allen's monumental literary classic, "Anthony Adverse," brought to the screen with all its wealth of color and dramatic fire, has been booked by Manager Lester J. Fountain for the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow.

Fredric March, Olivia De Havilland and talented Mickey Rooney are playing the leading roles in the picture.

In order to give this sweeping panoramic story the magnificence and magnitude it merited, Warner Bros., the producers, are said to have spared neither time, nor effort, nor cost. In fact more than two years were spent in preparing the script, in research work to make perfect the atmospheric settings, and in the actual filming of the many intricate scenes.

Huge Cast
There never has been a cast to approach this one in size, and few that will equal it in talent. There are 98 principals with speaking parts, 2550 bit players and extras, and nearly 3000 technicians and technicians worked behind the cameras to make the picture letter perfect. More than 1000 scenes were "shot" for the production on 131 mammoth sets.

The colorful and picturesque backgrounds are set in five countries on three continents. The scenes open in France, in the beautiful countryside and a great chateau, sweep through the Swiss and Italian Alps to the quaint city of Leghorn, Italy, then to Havana, Cuba, on to Africa and the great slave marts of other days, back to Italy and again to France to the court of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Other Attractions
The presentation of portions of two operas adds to the magnificence of the production. In addition to the main attraction the program includes a Fox newsreel and "Two Lazy Crows," a color cartoon.

This program will open tomorrow with a continuous show from noon and close with Wednesday night's showing.

VALIANT CARRIE AT BROADWAY

A new film personality of exceptional dramatic and emotional ability was introduced at the Fox Broadway theater yesterday when "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie" began its run which will close with tonight's showing.

The newcomer is Gladys George, famed stage actress, whose portrayal of the woman of shady repute who is resurrected and enabled by two little children she adopted, is one of the finest things ever captured by the camera and is certain to become one of the most widely discussed film roles of the season.

Miss George, as Carrie Snyder, brings up two homeless waifs as her own. Through great sacrifice and over the greatest obstacles she rears them to glorious young manhood and womanhood. The adult roles of the children are played by Arline Judge and John Howard. Peace and contentment abide in the little household until the boy becomes involved with Isabel Jewell, an adventuress. Arline Judge is in love with Howard and, broken-hearted, she marries another man.

In a frantic effort to restore harmony in the little family, Carrie becomes involved in a jail break with the adventuress, and is arrested. Before the trial she is confronted with a grave dilemma. If she fights the case she has a chance for freedom. If she doesn't fight it she goes to jail but her past will remain a secret. The way in which she makes her decision is a powerful and dramatic motion picture performance.

Others in the cast are Harry Carey, Dudley Digges, William Collier, Jr., Jackie Moran and Charlene Wyatt.

Relief Recipient Returns $15 Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The treasury recently received $15 from a former relief recipient who is back on his feet again.

The man whose name was withheld, sent this letter along with his $15 check:

"During February and March, 1934, I received federal relief in the form of groceries and meat to the approximate value of $15 through the Los Angeles county welfare department. . . Since I am in somewhat better circumstances I think I should refund said amount."

Hen Lays Three Eggs in One Day

BRASHER FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Benjamin Locke, St. Lawrence county poultryman, announced that one of his 800 White Leghorn hens had laid three perfect eggs in one day. He said he has known hens to lay two eggs in one day, but never before to lay three. Locke keeps his hens in separate cages.

Young Stars in 'Devil Is a Sissy'

Mickey Rooney, Freddie Bartholomew and Jackie Cooper, who take the leading roles in "The Devil Is a Sissy," which opened at the Fox West Coast theater today.

WEST COAST BOOKS LATEST FEATURE WITH MAE WEST

Manager Lester J. Fountain today announced the booking of Mae West's latest picture, "Go West Young Man," for the Fox West Coast theater for one week beginning next Thursday.

A typical Mae West show, this picture is for the West clientele especially, plus those who expect something spicily different when the glamorous personality is featured. Based on the play "Personal Appearance," numerous changes in the original were made and additions written in by Miss West to give her opportunity to demonstrate her special talents. Literally sprinkled with characteristic Western gags and wisecracks, and including two somewhat similar solos, the film is basically farce comedy.

CAR ATTACK IS REPORTED CRASH VICTIMS STRUCK TWICE

California Highway patrol officers today were checking a strange story told by a Laguna Beach woman injured in a traffic accident. She claimed two men in a car purposely struck her auto, then escaped with $50 when her car rolled over and crashed into a tree.

Mrs. Mable Lewis Chibberg, 50, Laguna Beach, told officers she was driving along the Laguna canyon road Wednesday afternoon when two men in a car behind her kept bumping into her auto. She attempted to get away, she said, but remembered nothing further until she regained consciousness in a doctor's office.

Her car skidded, rolled over, and crashed into a tree. She was seriously injured, but claimed when she arrived at the doctor's office that her purse, containing $50, was missing. She gave a detailed description of the car she said was following hers, even to the color of the wheels.

SCOUT KISSING STRIKE RUMOR

SEATTLE (AP)—Pickets to prevent rumored anti-kissing strike on the campus this winter were sought today by the University of Washington Daily.

The call for a continuance of "open shop" principles as applied to osculation came after dispatch quoted Columbia University proponents of an anti-kissing strike as citing the state university here as one of those where the movement was gaining ground.

The campus Daily here said the "baseless rumor" all started several months ago when anti-kissing articles were circulated on the campus at Washington State college, in eastern Washington, and were reprinted with caustic criticisms by the University Daily here.

Seeks Damages for Son's Injuries

Damages of $567.50 are asked from the Garden Grove Citrus association in a suit filed Thursday by George W. Kidd in behalf of his 8-year-old son, Leroy, on file today in Santa Ana justice court.

The complaint, filed by Attorney Harry C. Westover, alleges the boy incurred a broken arm from equipment at the packing-house last April 21, when Hans Suter, a truck driver for the association, who is named co-defendant, permitted Leroy to sit on the rear of a truck close to a moving belt conveyor, which caught the boy's sleeve and fractured his arm.

Kansas College Reunion Slated

All alumni and friends of Kansas State college have been invited to attend the annual winter picnic of the group, slated for 1 p. m. tomorrow in Irvine park.

All Kansas Staters have been requested to bring their own basket lunches. Coffee will be furnished by the committee in charge.

WALKER'S TO SHOW 'LAST MOHICANS'

Rated as one of the greatest sagas of Indian life in the early days of the nation, James Fenimore Cooper's "Last of the Mohicans" comes to Santa Ana via the silver screen Sunday when it opens a three-day engagement at Walker's theater.

On the same bill is another feature, "Don't Turn 'Em Loose," and a newsreel.

"Last of the Mohicans" is built around the siege of Fort William Henry on Lake George by the French and Hurons from Montcalm in 1757. Randolph Scott enacts the role of Hawkeye, a Mohican brave and Colonial scout, who wins the love of a daughter of the British commander after saving them from the scalping knives of renegade Indians.

With Scott in the cast are Binnie Barnes, Heather Angel, Hugh Buckler, Henry Wilcoxon, Bruce Cabot, Robert Barrat, Phillip Reed, Willard Robertson and Frank McGlynn, sr.

JOE IS POLOIST IN NEW FILM

One of the not too many actors to achieve success on the screen after a similar experience on the stage is Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, who is playing Joe E. Brown's comical valet in "Polo Joe," the star's latest comedy which comes to the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday.

In addition to the Joe E. Brown comedy, Manager Lester J. Fountain has also booked "Can This Be Dixie," starring Jane Withers and Slim Summerville.

In "Polo Joe," Brown's support includes Carol Hughes, Gallagher, Joseph King, Gordon Elliott, Fay Holden, E. Stone and many others.

In "Polo Joe," Brown faced all sorts of injuries, because he had to be thrown off a mule a dozen times, catapulted over a horse's head twice, and socked with a polo mallet a few times.

Vera North of Hollywood, crack horsewoman and animal trainer, is the one female player of the polo game. Her presence came about because the script called for Joe to ride a circus horse at the start of the game—one that bows and scrapes and does rhumbas when the band plays. The only such horse was Gypsy a handsome black mare belonging to Vera North, and she said: "Yes, I'll rent Gypsy to you for the stunts, if you'll let me play in the game." Director Bill Munn made the bargain, and hence the feminine poloist.

EXPORTS SHOW UP IMPORTS

Exports for the month totaled $264,708,000, and imports $212,001,000.

The foreign trade figures compared with a $31,939,000 excess of exports last year, when sales abroad totaled $221,296,000 and purchases from foreign countries, $189,357,000.

Says Hempseed Meal Not Superior

Hempseed meal, one of the new by-products tested by the animal husbandry division of the University of California, has not been found equal to many of the other feeds that have gained a place on the market or that are now trying to gain recognition. This statement is made by Arthur Folger, on the Davis campus of the college of agriculture, in a report to the local farm advisor's office.

There have been exceptionally large numbers of inquiries regarding hempseed meal as a dairy feed.

A by-product of the seed imported for oil for paint manufacture, it contains about 40 per cent total digestible nutrients. It has about the same amount of crude fiber as alfalfa hay, says Folger, but is somewhat lower in nitrogen, free extract, while the digestibility of the protein is approximately 84 per cent, that of the fiber is but 12 per cent. The total dry matter in 100 pounds of hempseed meal is 92 pounds. Crude protein is 26 per cent of the digestible nutrients, carbohydrates 6 per cent, and fat 5.2 per cent.

The feed was found to be rather unpalatable; sheep do not relish the meal in their ration, Folger said.

'ALONG CAME LOVE' IS AT WEST COAST COMEDY AND ADVENTURE AT STATE

Simple, tender and "sweet" is the fast-moving homespun romance of ordinary folks, "Along Came Love," which opened at the Fox West Coast theater today. The companion feature, "The Devil Is a Sissy," is heralded as one of the finest pictures of the year.

"Along Came Love" is a comedy of a girl who lives in her dreams played by Irene Hervey, who is in quest of the man who has all the virtues and attributes of the ancient Orion. She finds him in the student, Charles Starrett, and their love blooms until they are faced with a dilemma caused by a scandal when the girl's mother, Irene Franklin, a burlesque performer, is arrested. Rather than blight the young student's life, she disappears. But love finds her out. The intricate social problem is skillfully ironed out and the two are married, all to the tune of comedy, good music, and skillful performing by the entire cast.

Three of the most famous boy stars in motion pictures are brought together in "The Devil Is a Sissy." Featured are Freddie Bartholomew, Jackie Cooper and Mickey Rooney.

The boys unite in a determined effort to buy a tombstone for the father of one who has recently died in the electric chair at Sing Sing. That is the environment in which they live. In acquiring the money for the laudable purpose, they run afoul of the police and wind up in juvenile court.

Freddie eventually protects them and also emerges to be instrumental in the capture of a band of city killers.

The tomb of General Ulysses S. Grant, which overlooks the Hudson river in New York City, was built by popular subscription.

Mrs. J. C. Sims of Birmingham, Ala., grew a sweet potato weighing 11 pounds and 13 ounces.

Parties For Christmas
Bride

Much of the gaiety of these weeks before Christmas is centering around a Yuletide wedding which will unite Miss Betty Rowland and Terry Stephenson, Jr., in marriage on the day after Christmas.

The popular young bride-to-be is forming the incentive for a rush of pre-nuptial courtesies planned by her friends, and at one of the earliest of the parties, given yesterday afternoon, Miss Rowland's sister, Mrs. Wade Cargile (Jean Rowland) from Tulsa, Okla., was also present to share in the honors.

The courtesy was a prettily arranged luncheon and informal afternoon given by Miss Mary Iorns in her home at 821 North Garney, places of honor at the small luncheon tables being accorded to the two sisters.

Small poinsettias in cut glass containers centered the tables, and other appointments were in keeping with the holiday motif.

Spending the afternoon in informal chat, the guests took time to write their favorite recipes for the bride-to-be and for the other honored guest, herself a bride of a little more than a month.

Among those invited to honor the two were Mrs. Earl Morrison and Mrs. Susan Rutherford of Balboa, who have just returned from a three-months automobile trip to the four corners of the United States; the Mesdames James Harding, Bert Patton, George Miles, H. B. Van Dien, Mrs. Bruce Monroe, H. T. Dunning, and Mrs. Elliott Rowland, mother of the honored guests.

Two sisters, Misses Alyce and Mary Emil Majors, both Sigma Tau Psi sorority sisters of the bride-elect, were hostesses last night at a beautifully appointed supper and bridge party in the home of their mother, Mrs. E. R. Majors, 1811 North Flower street.

Keeping the bridal theme uppermost, the hostesses chose a white and green and silver color motif for the rooms and tables, centering the small tables with single white tapers on tiny mirror bases when they served supper before the bridge games.

Little wedding bells hung from each lighted candle, and the little ice cream molds and petit fours also carried out the holiday motif.

Miss Rowland, who found her place the place of honor, wore a lovely rust taffeta dinner dress, and the two hostesses were in moire, Alyce in burnt orange and Mary Emil in blue and metal cloth.

Mrs. Elliott Rowland, mother of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, mother of Miss Rowland's fiancé, were both in black dinner dresses; and Miss Genevieve Glover, who assisted in serving, wore a red frock.

In the bridge games which followed supper, first and second contract prizes went to Mrs. Elliott Rowland and Mrs. George Miles, and first in auction to Miss Marjorie Berkner.

At the close of the evening, the honored guest was led to the candlelight dining room, where she found gifts of Franciscan pottery in her chosen golden glow shade, presented to her by the assembled guests.

Flowers here and in the other rooms were all in the white and green motif, and gift wrappings, tallies and all other appointments were in pretty harmony.

Invited to honor Miss Rowland at this second lovely courtesy were her mother, Mrs. Elliott Rowland; her sister, Mrs. Wade Cargile of Tulsa, Okla.; the Mesdames T. E. Stephenson, George Miles, John McCarthy, Bruce Monroe, Lyle Anderson, Herbert Hill, Fayette Britcher, Russell Wilson, Edward Sugden, Paul Hales, Ray Buxton, Gene Anderson, Thomas Jentges, Woodrow Barnett, Roy Griset, Ray Jenkins, Don Harrison, Bruce Vegeley of Long Beach, Edmund West, Julia Hoyle, Bill Okey, Lee Hasenjaeger and Mrs. E. R. Majors, mother of the hostesses.

Misses Georgia Thirner, Jean Hill, Lois Simmons, Lucy Holmes, Virginia Graves, Marjorie and Fern Berkner, Genevieve Glover, Eloise Wright, Dolly Cox, Dorothy O'Bar, Jewel Theabo, Jean Berry, Bethel Dickerson, Mary Helen Crozier, Mary Jane Sturgeon, Nellie Cribaro, and the two hostesses.

After bridge games, light refreshments will be served at the card tables. Members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Turner Melton, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Desardorff, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Will Adams of Newport Beach, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mc Kay of Pomona, and Mr. and Mrs. Woven.

CHRISTENING INCENTIVE FOR DINNER PARTY

Though not quite two weeks old, Fern Charlene Rehm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. "Buddy" Rehm, of 109 North Van Ness street, was nevertheless quite big enough to know that she was the center of much attention, for it was today that she officially received those two pretty names, Fern and Charlene.

Baptismal ceremonies for the tiny girl were conducted at 10:30 this morning at St. Joseph's church, with Bert Casteix, friend for many years of the baby's father, and Miss Angeline Hoffer, Fern Charlene's aunt, as godfather and godmother.

After the rites, members of the family and a few close friends assembled at the Rehm home at 109 North Van Ness for a dinner party which had a triple cause for celebration—first of all, the christening; secondly, the "annual" fortieth birthday of the baby's father, and last, a postponed Thanksgiving.

A roast suckling pig was the piece de resistance for the dinner menu, and those partaking of the delicious repast were the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Hoffer; her nurse, Mrs. Ray E. Baird; and Mr. Baird, of Huntington Beach; the Mesdames Fern and Dorothy Jane Abbott, Mr. Casteix, and Miss Hoffer, and Mr. and Mrs. Rehm and son, Donald.

Poinsettias and huge yellow chrysanthemums decked the rooms of the home, where friends gathered to add their congratulations during the afternoon, and baby chrysanthemums centered the table.

KANSAS GUEST
HONORED AT BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. W. G. Dimmick of Hutchinson, Kan., who is spending a few weeks in Santa Ana with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown, at 1335 West Washington, was honored guest Thursday night at an informal bridge party given by the Browns in their home.

Mrs. Brown served at the close of the evening, with a profusion of red berries and colorful fruit through the home to create a holiday atmosphere for the party.

High scores in the bridge games were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson, and a pretty guest prize to Mrs. Dimmick. Others sharing the hospitality of the Brown home were the Mesdames, Mesdames Charles Fox, Earle Kent, Louis Shannon, Floyd Vale, Francis Harvey and Kenneth Brown, and the host and hostess.

CHARIVARI FOR NEWLYWEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, married two weeks ago in a quiet ceremony, were charivari by their friends last night, the self-invited guests arriving at the home at Eighth and Parton streets in an open trailer, gaily decked with appropriate labels, and taking the newlyweds for a ride through the downtown streets of the city.

The escort party included Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Harvey Pentecost, Ray Dunham, Merlin Swafford, Don Meggers, Elbert Smith, the Mesdames Wilho and Faye Martin, Arlene Weethe, Florine Gilbert, Eva Bottruff and Marietta Weethe.

On promise of a ransom, the "kidnapers" took the bride and groom home again, their reward turning out to be delicious punch and wafers.

Individual cakes iced in white and each with a tiny red candle were served with ice cream, rolls and coffee. The special table at which the charter members were seated was bright with red flowers and candles.

One of these original members, Mrs. Florence McCharles, gave an interesting account of the temple's history.

'RARE BOOKS'
IS TOPIC OF LIBRARIAN

Starting with a description of the "Gutenberg Bible," the first book ever printed and the work of Johann Gutenberg in 1456, Miss Ethel Walker, city librarian, talked about numerous rare books in her talk on that subject Thursday night before the third household economics section of Ethel club.

A second edition of the Bible printed in 1477 by an apprentice of Gutenberg, this one noted for beauty of illustration, was mentioned next; and Miss Walker then spoke about the library of 10,000 first editions and copies of Shakespearean plays established in Washington, D. C., by Henry C. Folger and of other collections extant today.

In conclusion, she spoke highly of the work of the Fine Arts Press of Santa Ana Junior college, praising its high standard of publications.

Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. A. J. Lasby and Mrs. C. W. Rairdon were in charge of the program; and Mrs. F. L. Andrews, Mrs. E. Prince and Mrs. J. H. Walker were hostesses for the day. Mrs. F. T. SORORITY DINNER

Two Preside
at Party
Today

Choosing a lovely setting in the home of Mrs. R. C. Hoiles, 1917 Victoria drive, she and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. H. Hoiles, presided jointly today as co-hostesses at a 1 o'clock luncheon and afternoon of contract.

For their table appointments, the two hostesses worked out harmonious combinations of the autumn colors, using predominantly chrysanthemums in the rich tones to be found in fall gardens.

Small bouquets of these blossoms centered the six small tables at which the luncheon was served, and larger arrangements were placed through the rooms where the guests were received.

Twenty-four friends were invited to share their hospitality at today's party, which is one of a series which the hostess duo plans to continue through the winter months.

TEACHERS AND ROOM MOTHERS
ARE HONORED

Spurgeon school teachers and room mothers were accorded the places of honor at pretty red and white tables in the school kindergarten room Thursday night when members of the Spurgeon Parent-Teacher association executive board entertained them at a dessert bridge party.

Each of the small tables was centered with a single red taper rising from a base of smilax and cotoneaster berries, and poinsettias were worked into the frosting of the cakes to carry out further the holiday motif. Refreshments were served by candlelight.

Auction bridge and monopoly followed, and the evening concluded with the awarding of prizes, as follows: High in auction to Mrs. R. E. Steinberger and Russell Hathaway; second to Miss Virginia Bigelow and Mr. Steinberger; a gallant prize for honors to Miss Elsie Carter; monopoly prize to Mrs. Luella Greene, and a special award to Mrs. Alice McVey.

Guests at the party were the Mesdames Guy Maties, Tom Smith, Cash, Kenneth Loughton, L. D. Spencer, M. Newkome, F. Edmondson, and R. H. Birkhead, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Steinberger, and the teachers, Mesdames Emily Butterfield, Alice McVey, Inez McVay, Luella Greene, Misses Elsie Carter, Virginia Bigelow, Eva Osborn, Lieberman, and Inez Hickman, and Mrs. Leonard, and the Messrs. SIGMA TAU PSI
HOUSE PARTY
THIS WEEK-END

Five pledges will go through the fun and excitement of informal initiation tonight and tomorrow when Sigma Tau sorority members gather for a house party at the Lido Isle home of Miss Georgia Turner.

Those to be "put through the traces" by the actives this week-end are the Mesdames Mary Hutchinson, Dorothy Skinner, Betty Marsden, Vivian Kaufman, and Dorothy Oharr.

Their formal initiation will take place Saturday night, Dec. 19, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hill, before the formal Christmas dance at which the sorority will honor them later in the evening at the Pacific Coast club.

Plans for both affairs were discussed at Thursday night's meeting of the sorority, held at the home of Miss Genevieve Glover on North Broadway. A happy surprise that evening was the appearance of Mrs. Wade Cargile (Jean Rowland), one of their members, who has been living in Tulsa, Okla., since her marriage Oct. 20, and who had arrived that day to spend December with her family.

The sorority will have its own Christmas party next Thursday at the home of Miss Jane Hill on Newport road, the members exchanging their Christmas gifts at that time.

MANY HEAR
COLOR LECTURE

Clare Cronenwett's talk on "Color" Thursday night at Willard school drew a crowd of listeners, many of whom had followed up their instructor's assignment from the month before and brought with them unique and attractive arrangements for the Christmas centerpieces.

One of the most interesting was made of three sizes of funnels and greenery on a plaque. Christmas arrangements predominated this time.

SORORITY DINNER

Sixteen members of Theta Nu Theta, social sorority of Fullerton, dined Friday evening at Doris Karthryn tearoom, returning to their home town afterward and attending the Fullerton Junior college play.

Weddings Take Them to New Homes

Mrs. John Nightengale wore her mother's wedding dress of brocade crepe meteor and lace and a bracelet and brooch which had belonged to her grandmother when she was married on Thanksgiving afternoon in the Costa Mesa Community church. The bride was Miss Anna Carey Pearce of Costa Mesa, daughter of the J. A. Pearce of that town, before her marriage, and Santa Maria is to be her new home. She is a graduate of Santa Ana Junior college.

Huntington Park is the new home of Mrs. Clifford Winter Smith, who was Miss Betty Dunton before her marriage the night before Thanksgiving. The charming brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dunton of Santa Ana exchanged vows with the young Angeleno in Bridges hall of music at Pomona college, from which both were graduated. Her dress of stiff white taffeta was made on medieval lines with hoop skirt train.

CHAT AWHILE WITH BETTY

By BETTY COX

It's in the air. It gets in our hair. It's everywhere.

Not blank verse, in the ordinary sense of the term, but blank in meaning until you realize it is the Christmas spirit—that's in the air, that gets in our hair, that's everywhere.

Have you felt it? Maybe it's the scent of those Christmas trees sprouting up on downtown telephone poles. And then, again, it might be just the shivery glow of December mornings and nights and this wintry rain. And the arrival of a Christmas savings club check might have something to do with it, too. Whatever it is, we've got it, and got it bad.

Heard about one little girl who couldn't think of anything to ask Santa Claus for, and he told her to think it over and come back. Have you ever been in that position?

Jaysces are saving the Christmas spirit for next week and will give first sign of it with the Yule concert which the music classes are ready to present on Friday evening at the high school little theater.

Welcome-home-smiles for Jean Rowland Cargile, who came out from Tulsa Thursday to help sister Betty in preparations for her wedding the day after Christmas. We've missed you, Jean.

When we were little, it used to rain every time we had a new dress or new pair of shoes. Now that we are grown up and own a sailboat it rains every time we find time for a sail.

A sailboat, we have found, is an education in itself.

We've learned, frinstance, about the tradewind that comes straight down Newport Bay in the summer—a blessing to all under sail, and greatly missed right now.

We've even learned how to furl sails, but so far have refused to have anything to do with swabbing the decks. Nautical language is all right until it gets into swabbing terms.

Congratulations to three real poets, members of Pegasus club, all of whom have had poems accepted by "The Country Bard" this past month. The three so honored are Mrs. J. R. Birtcher, Mrs. W. E. Poote, and Mrs. G. W. Bond.

Probably the most accomplished and persistent knitter in Santa Ana is Irene (Mrs. Ray) Adkinson. She doesn't make just skirts and blouses—but knits pieces corresponding to Vogue patterns, and then sews them together so that she has gored, kick pleats, tucks, and all sorts of complicated and stylish tricks.

Have you noticed how those popular Mead sisters, Lolita and Nan, who flit about from dance to party and back again, are getting to look more and more alike? Or is it just that they speak alike?

Here are some words whose beauty, says a contributor, has far greater depth than those published here last week. Her list includes: Mother, peace, darling, security, memories, joy, home, rest, truth, kindness, flowers, trees, sunshine, morning-dew, heaven, love, baby laughter, gratitude, laurel. It all depends on whether the sound of the connotation should be considered, doesn't it?

That Charlotte (Mrs. Frederick) Elliott has an exceptionally charming and talented mother in the person of Mrs. Ella June La Pierre becomes more and more apparent—particularly this week, when she played the difficult role of "Mrs. Kins" in the Laguna Beach Community Players' production of "The Bellamy Trial" last night. Lois (Mrs. Leland) Auer, clever character actress, performed the role.

Jefferson third graders even forgot about recess the other day when Mrs. Jesse E. Wolfe was telling them about Japan. A resident of China, Mrs. Wolfe has often visited in that other country which the boys and girls are studying this month, and she not only showed them how to use chopsticks but told them many interesting things about the school children of the Orient.

Mrs. Wolfe sails next week for Tsunan, her ship to dock in Yokohama on Christmas day. Because we don't want to say goodbye to her, we will adopt from Hawaii, one of her stops on the journey, and say "Aloha Oe," meaning "til we meet again."

To say red poinsettias is no longer redundant phrasing, because there is now a pink poinsettia on the market, we hear. Double pink ones, we've been told.

EBELL MODERN LITERATURE
GROUP PLAN TEA

Modern literature section of Santa Ana Ebells club will have a Christmas program and tea at its next meeting, on the afternoon of Friday, Dec. 11, at the ranch home of Mrs. Wilbur Barr, on Newport boulevard, Tustin.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Barr are to be Mrs. John Ball, Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth and Mrs. Earl Abbey, and Mrs. W. B. Hellis is arranging the program, which will start at 2 o'clock.

MRS. WRIGHT IS CLUB HOSTESS

Appointments suggestive of the coming Christmas were chosen by Mrs. J. A. Wright for the small tables at which she seated guests yesterday when she entertained members of her bridge club at a light luncheon and afternoon of cards.

High score in the afternoon's play went to Mrs. Albert Sanford, and second high to Mrs. Ray Couch.

Others enjoying the afternoon were the Mesdames J. L. McBride, Wayne Tibbs, John Turton, W. W. Kays, Roy Gowdy, A. Neilson, George Cocking, Lee Boyle, Ray Price, and the hostess.

Their next meeting, on Dec. 18, will be a Christmas party in the evening, with exchange of gifts, at the home of Mrs. Boyle.

which is that of a handsome middle-aged society woman, last year when the Santa Ana players did the play, because none of the right age could be found.

Jefferson third graders even forgot about recess the other day when Mrs. Jesse E. Wolfe was telling them about Japan. A resident of China, Mrs. Wolfe has often visited in that other country which the boys and girls are studying this month, and she not only showed them how to use chopsticks but told them many interesting things about the school children of the Orient.

FRENCH CLUB
ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Election of new officers was the chief piece of business transacted at the meeting Wednesday noon of the Junior College French club, held in the college women's lounge.

Betty Hammond was chosen at that time to head the group, with Albert Stewart as vice president, Kathryn Cooper as secretary and treasurer, Dorothy Griset as reporter, and Betty Lee as program chairman.

Highlighting the program was a "Major Bowes" program given entirely in French, with Joe Yocum as the major. Members recited French poems, gave French folk dances, and presented other impromptu stunts. All joined in singing "The Marseillaise" and French folk songs at the beginning, and luncheon concluded the meeting. Miss Lella Watson is advisor of the club.

SECTION PLANS
DESSERT BRIDGE

Of interest among club parties of the coming week is the benefit dessert bridge which the philanthropy section of Santa Ana Woman's club will sponsor next Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Martha Linsenbard.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. F. A. Martin, phone 4908, and Mrs. E. O. Ahern, 5128-W.

Four Preside
At Lovely
Affair

Blue and Silver Motif
Carried Out in Leaves

Merry glow of a fire in the grate and the fellowship of friends filled the Howard Timmons home on Red Hill last night with good cheer and the Christmas holiday spirit when Mr. and Mrs. Timmons and Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs joined in host duties at dinner and an evening of bridge.

Lending added warmth and brightness to the rooms were baskets of holly boughs placed here and there through the home. Exquisite beauty of appointment marked the table in the dining room where places were laid for 19 including the four hosts.

In the center of the table, blue and silvered acalyptus leaves were arranged in a long, low container of silver cut glass, a blue mirror forming the base and giving the desired contrast.

Blue and silver ribbons were tied in bows on the handle of the leaf container and extended to the two ends of the table, carrying the color harmony down the entire length.

Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine and the latter's father, James Davis of Piedmont; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Coffing, Col. and Mrs. I. F. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chandler, and the four hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Timmons.

Contract followed in the evening, tables being set up in the living room around the fire, and prizes were awarded for high score at each table at the close.

HOOVER P.-T. A.
ENDS MEETING
WITH YULE TEA

Rev. Mr. Harry Evan Owings was speaker at the regular meeting of Hoover Parent-Teacher association held Thursday afternoon at the school.

Following his interesting talk, Mrs. Newell Moore spoke briefly on "Correct Selection of Children's Toys." Also on the program was a "Health" demonstration given by the fourth graders, under supervision of Mrs. Frances Hart.

A pretty tea table greeted the members at the close when they were served light refreshments by a committee of hostesses, these including Mrs. John Ball, Mrs. H. J. Howard, and Mrs. A. Schroeder. The Christmas motif was carried out in appointments.

During the business period, the association decided to purchase books for the school library and games to be used on the playground. Mrs. E. D. Froeschle presided over the session.

WOMEN'S UNION
IN ELECTION

Mrs. J. E. Paul was re-elected president of the congregational church Women's Union Thursday when it met in all-day session at the church, and other officers chosen during the business session were Mrs. Effie Irish, vice president; Mrs. D. D. Field, secretary, and Mrs. S. P. Powell, treasurer.

Mrs. W. Stanley was chosen president pro tem of the world study group, and Mrs. Mayne Miles secretary.

During the covered dish luncheon hour at noon, Mrs. Paul asked each member to tell why she was a Congregationalist, and many interesting reasons were presented.

Business meeting program followed in the bungalow, arrangements being completed for the annual dinner to be held on the evening of Jan. 6.

Section meetings were announced as follows for next Wednesday evening at 2 o'clock: Northwest section, at the P. F. Schrock home, 205 West Twentieth street.

Northeast section, D. G. Cole home, 711 North Main street.

Southwest section, with Miss Elizabeth Muench, 1108 South Birch street.

Southeast section, no separate meeting, but members welcome at all other section meetings.

DE GLADE DAMER
HAS MEETING

Mrs. Harrison White was hostess to members of De Glade Damer at her home, 802 South Birch street, this week. She had decorated her dining-room very prettily with poinsettias and autumn fruits, with tall Christmas tapers centering the table.

Mrs. Eunice Barber of Hartford, Conn., and San Antonio, Tex., was a guest of the club, and while members sewed during the afternoon, she delighted them with accounts of her recent trip around the world, giving special attention to the Isle of Capri.

On Dec. 16 the club will have its annual Christmas gift exchange. Mrs. Ray Graham will be hostess to the group at her home, 1109 West Pine street.

REV. SCHROCK HAS SERVED 22 YEARS

Anniversary Sermon to Be Heard at Church On Sunday

The 22nd anniversary of his initial service as pastor of the First Congregational church of Santa Ana will be observed by the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock. His anniversary sermon topic will be "The Pot of Gold and the Rainbow."

The Rev. Mr. Schrock came to the Santa Ana church from the First Congregational church of Salem, Ore., in 1914. Previous to that he had filled his first pulpit in the Congregational church of Deer Park, Wash., to which church he went immediately following his graduation from Union Theological seminary in New York City.

He has the distinction of having the longest term of service of any Protestant minister in Orange county. He has seen all the Santa Ana churches change ministers anywhere from two to six times.

"During the 22 years," said the Rev. Mr. Schrock today, "many fine men and able ministers have served the Santa Ana churches. It has been a privilege to know them and work with them. But I feel confident that the churches right now are being served by the finest group of ministers that Santa Ana has ever had. They are not only able ministers, but fine individuals. It is a joy to be associated with them."

Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Jesus Walks on the Water—Following the feeding of the five thousand, Jesus prepared to depart across the sea of Galilee. "And straightway Jesus constrained His disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He sent the multitudes away. He went up into a mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone. But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves; for the wind was contrary. And in the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea. And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, 'It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.'—Matt. 14:22-23. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625-1630.

Yule Sermon Series Being Planned

Characterizing his eighth anniversary as minister of the First Baptist church of Santa Ana as a day to look to the future, rather than to survey the past, the Rev. Harry Evan Owings will conduct a special anniversary service at the morning services tomorrow.

"I feel," he said, "that a glance backward is not amiss, for many constructive things have been done, but we should view with more pride and interest the magnificent possibilities of the future. Eight years are nothing at all compared to what is in store for us."

With this in mind, he has entitled his anniversary sermon "To the Task Before Us."

The Rev. Mr. Owings came to the Santa Ana pulpit on Dec. 1, 1928. He had previously been in charge of the Denison college church in Granville, Ohio.

Two particularly interesting sessions of the Vesper services of the First Methodist church held each Sunday at 5:30 p. m. are in store, beginning with the one tomorrow evening, according to an announcement made by the Rev. George Warner, pastor.

"If We Were the Minister" will be the topic discussed by a panel composed of Mrs. Golden Weston, Miss Ethel Coffman, T. P. Douglas, Dr. A. F. Cory, Miss Helen O'Brien and Mrs. S. S. Vogt.

On the following Sunday, a panel of ministers will discuss "If We Were the Congregation."

Tomorrow's discussion by the lay people will, it is hoped, present a constructive critique of the church program, including its preaching, its worship, its church school, its missionary efforts and its social service.

Those who attended the Four Square church last Sunday and were disappointed by the failure of the Singing Morgan family to appear will have the opportunity of hearing them at tomorrow morning's services there.

The Rev. W. C. Parham announced today that the radio concert which prevented their appearance last week will not interfere with their program tomorrow morning.

The Four Square church will sponsor a fellowship meeting of all Orange county Four Square churches on Monday, he said.

Baptist ministers of Orange county, as well as from all over Southern California, have been invited to attend a mass meeting tomorrow afternoon at Calvary Baptist church, Los Angeles, to make plans for the Pacific coast fundamental Baptist convention which will be held during the first week of January in Los Angeles.

The convention will be attended by approximately 15,000 persons according to Rev. Carl Sweazy, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, Los Angeles, and the Rev. Harold Robertson, committee secretary, who were in Santa Ana and Orange county yesterday to arouse enthusiasm among the churchmen.

Kinda hate to deviate from the interesting lessons we've been looking at in the life of Paul, but tomorrow has been proclaimed as "Universal Bible Sunday."

Nowadays we "highbrows" publish textbooks as authentic. And within a few years the theories are disproved and discarded. Yet the Bible was written over a period of hundreds of years with many different inspired writers—and its parts dovetail and are in full accord with one another.

Critics have hammered away for centuries, and worn themselves out, but the Book of Books still stands. Tom Paine, author of the Age of Reason, said that within a few years the Bible would no longer be read, supplanted by his book of criticism. He has gone, but the Bible stands and each year finds more copies printed and read for new high records.

I am reminded of a little boy who liked to visit a blacksmith shop. He liked to watch the sparks fly and to ask questions. One day he asked if the smithy had worn out many anvils, to which he was told that "No, this anvil has been here like this for many generations. We've worn out many hammers, but the anvil is as good today as it was from the first."

Many "hammers" have come and gone, but the anvil of God's Word still stands.
